CINTI. ENGINEER TO MEET WITH CITY COUNCIL MAR. 1

Open Meeting For Citizens and works Plans Discussed.

Mr. John T. Gillig, of the Engineering firm J. T. Gillig & Co., of Cincinnatl, Ohio, has notified the City Council that he will meet the council and citizens of Cloverport at their regular meeting night, which will be Monday night, March 1st. Mr. Gillig is an expert on water-works and drainage system. He will go over the city and map out plans to build a modern water-works plant, and at tion at a general conference of railmodern water-works plant, and at tion at a general conference of rail-prices within reason to get it if the way union committeemen on Feb. 23.

Large quantities of water mains and smaller piping have been located in that were the government Supplies that were made to be sent over seas, but the abrupt termination of the war left these on the hands of the government and can be hought for half of what they sold for last year.

Citizens who are interested in water-works and fire protection are urged to attend the council meeting and help the cause along. Cloverport needs fire protection and to get it, let the slogan be: "We can, and we will build them."

ADJOURNMENT OF LEGISLATURE IS HEAVY EXPENSE

Costs State Something Like $2,000 Per Day. Not a Single Measure Has Passed Both Houses.

The Kentucky Legislature reflected no credit upon itself when it adjourned on Wednesday, Feb. 11th to re-convenue on the following Monday. It is costing the state something like $2,000.00 per day, yet after more than half of its allotted time has gone, but not a single measure has passed hoth

"BLOODLESS SURGEONS"

Each staff member has at his command the knowledge and resources of the organization. Many people suffer from diseases that can be alleviated just because they cannot afford to go to high priced Specialists and Hospitals at a long distance from their home. No community has a sufficient number suffering from these diseases to support special Hospitals for their treatment and cure. The United Doctors have solved the problem. Their highly trained Specialists go to each community and will advise a proper course of treatment for the sufferers and instruct them how to take care of themselves at home. No matter what you have been told or the experience you had with other physicians, consult him on this visit. It costs nothing. If your case is incurable he will give you advice as may stay and relieve the disease. Married ladies must come with their auspands and minors with their parents or guar-

The party consisted of Alexander Hampton, of Louisville, Ky.; John M. Hampton, of Portland, Oregon; Henry B. Hampton, Francis M. Hampton, wife and daughter and Dewey T. Hampton, of Louisville; and Capt Bennie Carnth Hampton, wife and capt Bennie Carnth Hampton, wife and daughter, of Camp Taylor

Mr. Hampton was born in Hardin county, Feb 18th., 1834. He is a Civil War veteran, and served under Col. Boon's 28th Infantry, 2nd brigade, 2nd division, all through the Atlantic Campaign. The most severe fighting being at Nashville, Tenn. A prom-inent citizen and the father of thirteen children. He is known throughout Hardin, Grayson and Breckinridge counties as the most efficient carpenter that ever picked up a tool, and a man whose word is always his bond. His first wife was Nancy J. Franklin, of Hardin county, by whom were born si., children; four sons and two daughters, two of whom survive, Alexander and J. M. (Mc) Hampton All born in Hardin county except the

J: M° Hampton, the oldest, soon after his marriage engaged in the merchantile business at Big Clifty, Ky., later removing to Vine Grove, and thence to Melker, Okla., where he died in 1902 leaving a large family of sons and daughters. Ada Hampton died while yet in her teens Alexander Hampton is a first class carpenter of Louisville, owns his home at 1823 Greenwood Avenue, where he resides with his wife and two children. He is the only son who ever kept up his end with his father as a carpenter. Betsey Hampton died when a child. J. M. Hampton is a vocal musician, an expert telegrapher, and has been on the Pacific coast for 21 years. Rev. Bennie F. Hampton, born at Big Clifty, Ky, was a deep student and Baptist minister, preaching his first sermon at Big Clifty, on the very day he was 14 years of age, dying at Mampa, Idaho in 1899, aged 28; a young man, but old in Ministeral Ser-

Mr. Hampton's second wife was Martha A. Stillwell by whom seven children were born; five sons and two daughters. All born in Breckinridge county, Ida Belle married Orb Hickerson, dying at the age of 26, leaving one daughter. Mary Ellen, a school teacher, married Victor Orendorff, dying at the age of 26, leaving one daughter. Harrison C. and Louis A

Hampton died at the age of 21 and 20. Henry B. and Francis M. Hampton are in business at 1015 West Broad way, doing a lucrative business, and Dewey T. Hampton is an expert barber, of Louisville, all prominent young men. Francis married Carrie Stillwell They have one child, a daughter. Capt. Bennie C. Hampton, son of John M. Hampton, was born in Hardin county, 1891. He enlisted at Los Angeles, Cal., as a private soon after overseas with the 144th Field Artillery and later transferred to the embarkation camp returning home last September and was assigned to Camp Taylor, for duty as an instructor. Capt. Hampton married Elsie Leece, of Portland, Oregon, They have one daughter heing born while the Capt. was over seas. J. M. Hampton, four sons, namely Capt. Hampton, Wade Hampton, associated with the White House, San Francisco's largest department store; Maxie E. Hampton, associated with a large store at Nampa, Idaho; and Ernest Hampton, aged 12 years, of Los Angeles, Cal.; who will graduate in high school this coming

The father of all these children is still active, hearty and in good health and bids fair to reach his hundredth year. Mr. and Mrs. Hampton were just about as happy a couple as it is possible to be. Their faces were radiant with joy and many reminiscenses of the past were delved into and enjoyed by all. The reunion was occasioned by the visit of J. M. Hampton who had not seen his father for 30 years And it was a happy reunion enjoyed by all and one that will never y forgotten.

FIREST PRESIDENT WAS SECOND TO RICHEST MAN IN U. S. IN HIS DAY.

Washington was a man of extraor linary activity. It was his custom to ise at 4 o'clock, and he claimed that great deal of his work was done while others slept. "My manner of living," he wrote, "is plain, and I do not mean to be put out by it.

It was said of him, "At the time of his marriage it is no great strain of metaphor to say that Washington had now his first chance to sit down since the days when he had pored over his school copybook." After the war and his first term as president Washing-ton found his estates run down and unprofitable, yet he so redeemed his fortunes by his application to his affairs and by good business judgement that he died the second richest man in America at that time.—Christian

Paul Compton was in Hardinsburg, the first day of Circuit Court, shaking hands and smiling on his old friends at home and everybody smiled on affairs—the sort of man to whom the him. We remember when Paul, a green country boy working on his father's farm near Garfield, was called by the late Morris Beard to a position in his assistance, equally confident of his a coat of paint on the "storehouse," bank. Paul had just returned from school and was behind a plow when Morris called him. He made good and succeeded Mr. Beard after his death as cashier of The Bank of Hardinsburg & Trust Co. He resigned from this position and is flow Vice President and secretary of the Lincoln Savings Bank & Trust Co., one of the leading banks in Louisville. This is a wonderful step. It shows what a young man may rise to when he is honest, faithful and true to his work and his friends

WORTHY OF YOUR READING

In this issue of The Breckenridge News appears two interesting articles which we are: anxious that our readers should not overlook. First, is the article headed. "The Town That Would Not Be A City;" pointing out the idea that its better to have the right sort of town in preference to trying to make a big cityl out of asmall town. And the writer goes on and suggests the many ways in which a small town may be improved and made a place of beauty where the inhabitants may find happiness, pride and contentment, which, after all, are the things we care for most in our surroundings.

The other article to which we refer is Mr. Thos. A. Edison's interview of himself written on his seventy-third birthday celehrated last week. Mr. Edison credits all of his accomplishments to work more than genius. His views of the possibilities of the lahor unions are worthy of your reading.

It behooves every citizen in Cloverport to atend the city council meeting on March t, and hear the plans proposed by Engineer Gillig. of Cincinnati, for building water-works in our town.

Certainly the opportunity for us to build water-works is knocking at our door, and the question is, will we accept it?

Whether the city council will propose to accept the plans and suggestions made by Mr. Gillig or not, is optional. But to have every merchant business man and citizen attend the meeting, would be encouraging and more than likely some definite steps could be taken.

Form the habit of reading the advertisements of your home merchants that are in The Breckenridge News each week. They are offering merchandise and bargains that equal any mail order house in the United States.

It took fourteen thousand men with 1,000 trucks to dig New York City out from under its $5,000,000 snowfall.

Perhaps Mr. Hoover declines to be a candidate for president until all the women can vote.

If only people came in and land went up and a few men grew rich because of that, all was well, and we need not a few men grew rich because concern ourselves about the noble trees that were cut down, the clear springs that became defiled, or the poorer families that were ever crowded into less and less desirable homes.

Surely there is another type of city, a liner and higher town ideal. The city that shall lie all beautiful, the town that desires more inhabitants less than better and happier citizens-surely these things exist not only in imagi nation, but somewhere in the splendid pelpable reality, built by the cheerful toil of men who love their homes and firm-planted on rocky hillside or billowing paririe with which they recognize kinship. Surely, too, these over-ly ambitious towns of ours, blind in their worship of size and numbers, may yet open their eyes and see the possibilities that lie about hamlet and "A city is not builded in a day," sings one of our present-day poets; and we need not expect to see our ideal city, our contented town, spring suddenly into existence. The passion for virtue and beauty and sanity of life is not going to possess any exist-ing "metropolis" and convert it into the city of our dreams. There is no Merlin of industry to build for us a modern Camelot. Nor can we more than hope that our little town will speedily recognize its kinship with the fields and deliberately set itself the mission of living not only among but with them, of having the atmosphere flowing through its streets and extending its modernities out into their lanes until town and country become but parts of a single welldefined and well-organized whole.

Yet something like this, it seems to me, must come to pass. Slowly, no doubt, as the growth of the trees in the forest or the city street, but none permanent badge of unworthiness, not aspire to be a city at all; one less surely and irrevocably, the little Down in our South country. Atlanta little hamlet that has no desire to town will come into its own. Some town will come into its own. Some their keeping, I am persuaded, has come the right sort of town instead

Some day let us hope our little city will realize that the pleasant views from the banks or the river and the shadowy "courting lanes" leading down to the water's edge are real assets, and that properly conserved and developed they will add more to the satisfaction and daily serenity of life of the city's people than would a new factory, the building of which would spoil the vista and make necessary the cutting down of the Immemorial elms and stately sycamores. When the city has realized this, beauty in any part of it will be cherished, and untidiness or unwholesomeness in a hackyard will be considered a crime against the community.

Then, if the promoter of the new factory comes to town, we can Imagine the city's head men taking him far down the river bank and saying: Here, we think, would be a good place for your plant. You see that your smoke will drift away from the towns the railroad spur you need will run behind this bank almost out of sight; your buildings will not spoil our fine view across the giver; and up there on this slope will be a fine place for your workers to live if you wish to build a village for them. We shall insist on paved streets, liberal front yards and gardens, neat exteriors and modern conveniences for these houses. We are willing to help

RATE IN COUNTRY THIS YEAR.

Washington.—The mortality rate due to the influenza epidemic this year was about half of that in 1918, said a afternoon. Mrs. Satterfield was prestatement to-day by the Public Health Service, announcing that the present epidemic apparently had reached its ity rate per 100,000 of population for the respective peak weeks of 1920 and the respective peak weeks of 1920 and 1918 shows: Chicago, 1,886, compared with 4,620 in 1920; Milwaukee, 1,434, as compared with 1,915; Washington, 2,072 as compared with 9,789.

"These rates may be taken as a fair indication of conditions throughout the country," it was said. "With the exception of some cities in Massthe exception of some cities in Massachusetts and New York State, ex-clusive of New York City, practically all of the reports indicate a decline."

MY MOTHER.

"My Mother is the dearest Mother on earth, she watches me every move I make. Your mother will stick by you to the end. When you are in trouble go to your mother and she will help you out. When you are sick and nobody else will stay in the room, your mother will come in and read to you and stand the chance of taking the disease you have. Some-times when I start to go in swimming or do something else that I think it all right my mother won't let me go because she thinks I will get drowned. So from the love of your mother go off some place and stay a week or two and you will get letter every time you turn around from your mother telling you to come home, and when you are going on some long journey your mother will start crying, not wanting you to go. F ever men are "Tom" and "Bill" to each other. it's when good pipes are a-going. If ever good pipes go their best, 'tis when Velvet's in the bowl

For Velvet is a mighty friendly smoke. Kentucky Burley is the leaf that Nature made for pipes. Wholesome and hearty, honest as the day. And Velvet is that same good Burley leaf, brought to mellow middle age.

For eight long seasons Velvet "meditates" in wooden hogsheads, throwing off the rawness of "young" tobacco-truly "ageing in the wood." Out Velvet comes—cool, calm and generous—the tobacco Nature made good, kept good and made better.

Velvet's sweetness is the sweetness of good tobacco, not "put on" like "frosting" on a cake. Its mildness comes from natural ageing, not from having the life buked out. Its fragrance is true tobacco fragrance, not a perfume. And Velvet makes an A Number One cigarette. Roll ane.

As good old Velvet Joe says:

LANSING RESIGNS AS SEC-RETARY OF STATE. ACCUS-ED OF USURPING POWERS.

Robert Lansing has resigned as Secretary of State after President Wilson had accused him of usurping the powers of the president by calling meetings of the Cabinet during Mr. Wilson's absence. As the record stands Mr Lansing tendered his re-signation Feb. 7, and Mr. Wilson accepted it.

Mr. Lausing denied he had songht or intended to usurp the presidential authority. He added, however, that he believed then, and still believes going strong."

Lobbists of both sexes are here in force. They are experts in their line and overlook no opportunities. All classes are represented except the farming. Lack of organization is the answer. The $75.00 minimum for school teachers has passed in the House and a qualification measure has been voted in the Senate. Road bills are also being advanced, but slowly. Armistice Day will he added to our present number of holidays. A lawful fence will doubtless be reduced from 41/2 ft. to 4 ft.. A bill to exempt $500.00 of the value of dwellings from taxation appears to be held up by the committee on Revenue and Taxation.

A Kentucky Board of Moving Picturn Censors is provided for in a measure that is now in the order of the day. The bill to reduce the state tax rate on chickens to ten cents and providing for 25 chickens free has passed in the House. Election officers will receive $5.00 per day and polls will be kept open until 6 p. m. under proposed measures.

Revenue From Races. Churchill Downs, Latonia and Lexington race tracks pay into the state treasury $500.00, $500.00 and $200.00 respectively, each day during the races, under a proposed bill, which the racing commission does not oppose, the license in each case would be

Flowing Well In Western Kentucky

"Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 24 - A well drilled in by J. E. Smith, P. D. Trigg and others, on the Warren and Barren county line came in flowing and gushed over the derrick. It is estimated at between 500 and 700 barrels a day initial production."

The above is the latest development in the vicinity of our leases in Barren County. This great well is almost within riffle shot of our leases. We are in the same structure, and have good reason to expect as good results as were obtained on that lease.

All our leases are in the proven structure and the prospect for good success is very largely in our favor. Should we strike production like the above on any one of our leases it should make $20 for every $1 invested. Better act right now, while you can get shares at .50. They will be worth many times that after we tap the oil.
